

Rail Real Estate

Locating on Rail

RAIL MADE

EASY

We all have unique and varied considerations when deciding where we want to live — the school district, the size of the home, the type of community, the nearby amenities and activities — and so much more. A good real estate agent will listen and learn. As an expert in their field, they may even present options we had not considered to identify the best location to meet our specific needs.

Finding the best location for your business is a similar process. That's where we come in. Consider locating your business on rail when making your site selection decision. We can show you the many benefits of rail transportation. As recognized experts, OmniTRAX provides rail real estate acumen to businesses, property owners and communities. We find the best rail location for you to use and grow your business. Together, we Grow American Communities.

Here's how we make locating on rail easy:

Communicate

We'll ask questions, listen to your answers and learn your business. We're in this with you and will find the best solution for you.

Connect

We have a variety of property options to meet your needs — greenfield, brownfield or existing building.

Locate

We have an extensive network across the United States and will find the right rail served location for you.

Ship

Our team operates at the intersection of real estate, supply chain and rail transportation — we'll help you realize the many benefits of rail.
